The use of herbs has been a part of American society since the early days of our early American pioneers and today we continue to benefit from the wisdom of these natural healers. The body tends to heal itself if given the time, space and support, allowing for complete recovery. Yet many are held back from their true potential of natural wellness due to our modern medical society. Drugs, radiation and surgery become the norm instead of being viewed as a new era in healthcare. Dr. Isaac Scholte has seen this happen first-hand in his medical practice. The effect of protease inhibitors on the intracellular action of the feline coronavirus fusion protein. Protease inhibitors and receptor analogues have been used to elucidate the mechanisms by which coronaviruses enter and infect cells. The feline coronavirus (FCoV) fusion protein is the molecule responsible for attachment to and fusion with the target membrane. This study shows the extracellular and intracellular inhibition of FCoV-F by protease inhibitors and alanine scanning analysis of the fusion protein domain. The results show that inhibitor binding sites are located in the S2P1' part of the protein, suggesting that S1 and S2 domains are not the target for the action of FCoV protease inhibitors.

Just a few hours later, he announced that he would spend that money to "keep the program going in 2017-18, without increasing taxes." (In truth, he'd been planning to do that anyway: He didn't eliminate existing programs, but by reducing his spending budget, he was able to redirect money to them.) But why would Bentley want to show his power at the expense of the people he's supposed to serve? We don't know for sure, but one potential reason is the same reason he voted to sell the Blount County Courthouse to Frank Melton, owner of the lucrative Brown Stone Co. in Knoxville: For Bentley, the courthouse is a symbol of state power, and his office is part of that state power.
