So I used version 4.x in order to use it. But the problem is that I'm not sure if I should use it in my Drupal installation or not. This is how I'm using it: Include path: /usr/local/src/php-5.3.5/php/ext/md5.php If I use it in my website, I get errors like "Notice: Undefined index: MD5" But the function is working, so I don't understand what's the problem. A: The files in the ext/md5 folder (which is where the ext/md5.php file you have included resides) are for PHP 5.3 (or above). This is a good thing, if you try to include these files for PHP 5.2 you will actually get the Notice, and be unable to use these files. If you need them for PHP 5.2 (or lower), you should be able to include them in /usr/local/src/php-5.3.5/php/ext/. "valueOf" public static double valueOf(String source) { try { return Double.parseDouble(source); } catch (NumberFormatException e) { logger.warn("Got exception when parsing '{}' from '{}': {}", source, getClass().getName());
